Summer 2023

Regional District of
Kitimat-Stikine

Spring Freshet

The RDKS regional emergency operations centre (EOC) was quick to respond to spring flooding in New Remo, Old Remo and Usk. The EOC worked diligently with other organizations to ensure the residents were safe, providing updated information and resources to those affected. The State of Local Emergency for Electoral Area 'C' and 'B' and Evacuation Orders for these areas have now been rescinded. The RDKS would like to thank the Emergency Support Services (ESS) team consisting mostly of volunteers who dedicate their time to assist those evacuated from their homes. ESS services include registration and family reunification; referrals for basic necessities such as lodging, food, and clothing; emotional support; and emergency pet care.

Update from the Chair

The RDKS is reaching the halfway point of 2023 and so far, this year it has been a busy one for RDKS Board members and staff. Since January, eight Directors have travelled to 20 events learning, networking, and advocating on behalf of the Regional District of Kitimat-Stikine and residents. These events include, BC Natural Resource Forum, Minerals North, North Central Local Government Association annual meeting, Resource Benefit Alliance Meetings and representing the RDKS during treaty negotiations.

Monthly Board meetings have been a productive forum for discussions, presentations, and legislative work. Since the start of the year the Board has received 13 presentations from local organizations and individuals as well as from the province and private corporations. Seven bylaws came before the Board for consideration and nearly 50 reports were reviewed or actioned by the Board. This included several Notice's of Motion, which are director led motions at the Board table.

Looking ahead to the rest of the year, the Board is preparing to attend the annual Union of British Columbia Municipalities convention in mid September. This is a unique opportunity for elected officials to advocate to the provincial government, network and learn from other local governments across the province. This year RDKS Board Directors will be requesting meetings with 10 Ministers to discuss 20 diverse topics. These include an update on the Resource Benefit Alliance revenue sharing agreement, an MOU was signed at UBCM 2022, Grant in Lieu of taxes for small communities, Cranberry Connector, and the need for a withdrawal management facility in the northwest.

Board meetings take place the third Friday of the month. See the RDKS website for more information on Board meetings, becoming a delegation or to review Agenda's and Minutes. All regular Board meetings are open to the public to attend and are also available for live streaming.

Corporate

Code of Conduct

The Board is currently in the process of updating their Code of Conduct. Codes of conduct provides guidance and sets shared expectations for elected officials on how they conduct themselves in their relationships with elected colleagues, staff and the public. Responsible conduct is grounded in elected officials conducting themselves according to principles such as integrity, accountability, respect, and leadership and collaboration in a way that furthers a local government's ability to provide good governance to their community.

Protection of Privacy Program

The Board adopted its Privacy Management Program Policy. The purpose of the policy is to describe how the RDKS collects, uses, discloses and protects personal information. The policy provides a framework to set expectations for privacy accountability and support compliance with the privacy requirements of FIPPA. This policy will be the foundation of the RDKS's Privacy Management Program and will set the background for privacy to be a central component of our business practices and a built-in component of our day-to-day program operations. Additionally, the policy supports the RDKS's strategic plan of Organizational Effectiveness and the Board's goal to review and update Board policies.

Thornhill Water Restrictions

The Thornhill Water System experienced its first restriction of the year in May. As we approach warmer months, please be aware of the potential for further restrictions.

Why are there restrictions?

The current water system is supplied by two wells that supply water via a pump at each site. During warmer temperatures when the water consumption goes up, the system can struggle to supply the necessary flow. By reducing non-essential loads, it ensures supply to the community and reduces the operating costs. Please ensure you observe restrictions when communicated as this has direct impact to costs and supply of your neighbours.

The RDKS is also looking to increase the capacity of the Thornhill Water system with the activation of Pumphouse 4 later this year.

Are You Building?

We require property owners obtain a Building Declaration and Siting Approvals Permit prior to construction of any addition, principal structure or ancillary structure over 10 m<sup>2</sup>.

The purpose of this permit is to ensure all proposed new construction will meet the building requirements of the applicable zoning bylaw.

We do not provide building inspection services so the Permit does not confirm that the building you intend to construct (under the Permit) will meet BC Building or Fire Codes. This does not excuse the property owner from the responsibility of building according to these codes.

Visit our website for the permit and more information or contact planning@rdks.bc.ca.
